

BOSTON SELECTED

National Association of Manufacturers Adjourn To Meet at the Hub Next Year.

STRONG AND GROWING ORGANIZATION.

The Association To Have Agencies, With Warehouses in All Parts of the World.

President Search and the Other Officers Were Re-Elected. The Headquarters To Remain in Philadelphia, With Branches.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 27.—The fourth annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers adjourned Thursday night to meet next January in Boston.

This has been the largest and most important annual meeting in the history of the association. It is said to represent now more capital than any other organization in the country not excepting the National Association of Bankers.

It has been organized only a few years, and if its growth continues as it has done, it will be found to be the strongest organization of invested interests in existence. A movement was inaugurated at this convention to increase the revenues so that the association will have agencies with warehouses in all parts of the world. The association was organized here four years ago, and at this meeting it was practically reorganized so as to include a much larger membership at home and also to secure more agencies in foreign countries for the disposal of American ware.

President Search and the other officers who have had experience in their respective business, were re-elected and the headquarters remain in Philadelphia with branch offices in New York, Boston, Chicago and Cincinnati. The enlargement of the scope of the association, as well as of the membership and its revenue, is largely due to President Search, who expects to see this organization become one of the most powerful ones that was ever known.

GEO. EBERHARDT'S MURDER

Five Persons Under Arrest—One of the Suspects Confesses, Fearing the Crime on a Companion

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Five persons—three men and two women—have been arrested for complicity in the burglary in Sixth street, on Tuesday which resulted in the murder of George Eberhardt by one of them while escaping. One of the men had made a confession and fastened the murder upon one of his co-conspirators. The names of those arrested are Robert Ryan alias John Duncan Young alias David Young alias Scotty, whose home is said to be in Boston, and Henry Baumann alias Otto Bergman, alias Spike, who hails from Fall River. The women are Alice Kelly and Tilly Kildashop. The confession which was made by Baumann frees Charles Steele now under arrest.

OPPOSED TO EXPANSION.

Texas Legislature Kills a Resolution Introducing Texas Representatives to Vote for the Ratification of the Treaty.

ARLINGTON, Tex., Jan. 27.—The house committee on foreign relations Thursday killed a resolution calling on the Texas congressmen and senators to vote for the ratification of the treaty of peace made at Paris, and their request that they vote to give freedom of independence to the people of Cuba, coupled with the provision that the Philippine Islanders be given independence as soon as practicable by their bonding themselves and renouncing the United States for the cost of the war.

Earthquake Shakes in Jamaica.
KINGSTON, Jamaica, Jan. 27.—A severe earthquake shock which was felt throughout this island on Saturday morning was followed by another on Tuesday night, the direction being west to east. No damage has been reported. The northern West Indies are telegraphically cut off. The reason is unknown but in probability it is due to an earthquake.

The Ohio Centennial.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Representative Southard, of Ohio, has introduced a bill for government participation in the Ohio centennial and northwest territory exposition at Toledo in 1903 or 1904, and appropriating $500,000, of which $100,000 is for a government building.

President Search is Present.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Senator McKinley has consented to be present on the occasion of the laying of the cornerstone of the new Chicago post office on Chicago day, October 9, next. It is probable that several members of the cabinet will accompany him.

Death of Andrew Moore.
HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 27.—Senator Flynn said Thursday night that a reward of $10,000 will be offered by the anti-Quayites for proofs of any corruption in connection with legislation.

DEFENSE BEGINS.

Rapid Progress Made in the Gen. Eagan Court-Martial at Washington.

ACCUSED TESTIFIED IN HIS BEHALF

Tears Filled the Eyes of the General as He Presented His Defense to the Court

My Wife, My Children, Myself Disgraced, Said He—“I Was Burning Up Inside When the Cruel Words Were Spoken.”

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The Eagan court-martial resumed its session at the Elliott house at 10:10 Thursday morning.

Gen. Eagan had arrived three minutes before. He looked pale and troubled. His eye, better than anything else, showed the strain under which he is laboring.

After the first witness for the defense had testified Gen. Eagan himself took the stand. He stated his age was 51, detailed his connection with the army and brought out the important features of his record. He was wounded in the Modoc war and brevetted a captain for it. He became commissary general May 4. In his official capacity he has expended between $19,000,000 and $20,000,000. Of his testimony before the board he said:

“I was summoned before the board and gave my testimony under oath—preferably so. I wanted to appear before the board to refute Gen. Miles’ statement and was called in response to my request, but was not given in much time to make my statement as I had desired.

“I had a conversation with Secretary Alger. I told him that I desired to make some changes that I was a member and a thief, but was told that Gen. Miles, under the president’s promise, could not be reached.

“The interview with Gen. Miles, published in New York, nearly drove me crazy.”

Here the voice of the witness broke, and with difficulty he restrained his tears.

“I sought to ascertain whether the president would grant me an audience, and I waited until after the adjournment of the session before the board. The matter is still in the hands of the adjourned general.

“The effect on me of the words, ‘promise of experiment,’ was that it took away my character.”

Again the voice of the witness began.

“I felt that I would be better dead in the gutter than in this position,” he continued. “My wife, my children, myself disgraced! I did not know what to do. The intuition was that I had poisoned soldiers under pretense of an experiment. I had no redress. I believed the honor of a soldier should not more be impugned than the virtue of a woman.”

A tear coursed down the cheek of the witness. He restrained himself with difficulty. He then continued dramatically:

“I wanted to hurl back the charges so that men might believe me. I thought of no disrespect. I only wanted men to know me honest. I believe they know it now. Before God, on the honor of a man, never a cent from my office soiled my fingers. I have not money enough to-day,” he said, turning to his attorney, “to pay you your fee.”

“I could not eat, could not sleep. I could hardly restrain myself from doing what men did under such circumstances, when I was a boy. I went before the board feeling that I had to say something in such a way that the press and the people would believe me honest. I was burning up inside. The press had condemned me as corrupt, as a wholesale murderer for purposes of gain.”

After a pause he continued: “That possessed my mind day and night. I had to get a little extension of time to complete my document. I was absorbed in vindicating myself. I was oblivious to all about me. I was talking to 70,000 people.

“I had been goaded and driven to death. I did not know until the documents came to me that any action had been made to any part of it. I then called in Col. Alexander and Col. Davis to help eliminate the matter complained of.”

Attorney Worthington then stopped because of the absence of witnesses. Judge Advocate Davis was authorized to invite the secretary of war to appear Friday, and the court adjourned. It was evident that Eagan's testimony had made quite an impression. Wednesday they adjourned for a week.

Agree to Form a Confederation.
MADISON, Jan. 27.—Philippines advised received here state that the Tagalos and Visayans have agreed to form a confederation.

Desperado Kills Three Men.
EUCLID, I. T., Jan. 27.—Andrew Moore, a desperado of the notorious gang at Whitefield Thursday, Moore is a Choctaw Indian. He harbored a grudge against the men and walked deliberately up to them and shot them down. Moore escaped but marshals are after him.

A NERVOUS ROBBER.

He Coolly Walks into a Bank in London and Takes a Parcel of Notes.

OVER A HUNDRED CLERKS AT WORK.

The Thief Opened a Drawer and Taking 60,000 Pounds Therefrom Walks Out of the Bank.

American Thieves Are Suspected of Having Been Concerned in the Theft of £40,000 in the Biggest Notes Were Retrieved.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The robbery of over £40,000 from Parke's bank in this city on Monday last, which has been the subject of the week, took a dramatic turn Thursday when the chairman of the bank announced at a meeting of the shareholders that £40,000 in the biggest notes had been returned to the bank by post.

The robbery apparently was a master stroke. The thief is supposed to have walked boldly behind the counter and, after the opening of the safe, opened a drawer from which he took a parcel of notes, and walked out of the bank undetected. American thieves are suspected of having been concerned in the theft as it is said several Americans were recently noticed loitering about the premises. The police are again utterly helpless. Thirty-six £1,000 notes and a £500 notes figured in the robbery. Most of these have now been recovered, and the remainder of the notes are practically recovered.

The chairman of the bank also announced that the bank of England had promised to pay this amount, the £47,000, of which £40,000 had been returned.

The remainder of the money was in notes of smaller amounts, which could be easily passed and might therefore be considered lost.

The shareholders greeted this unexpected announcement with enthusiasm, especially as it was accompanied by a declaration of a dividend of 4 per cent.

The chairman of the bank also announced that the bank of England had promised to pay this amount, the £47,000, of which £40,000 had been returned.

The remainder of the money was in notes of smaller amounts, which could be easily passed and might therefore be considered lost.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime had postponed the case in which Mr. Garland was accused of being a thief, the suspicion of the attack was known, had been cleared with other business. Word of the tragedy was soon noised through the capitol and senators and representatives hurried to the court room. The two Arkansas senators, Mr. Berry and Mr. Jones, were among the first to view the body, and following them was a long line of persons high in legislative and legal circles who had been unassociated with Mr. Garland at various times in his long and notable public career.

The court in the meantime

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ABSOLUTELY PURE
Makes the food more delicious and wholesome

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

The Editor of this paper is in no position to give opinions expressed by Correspondents, but nothing reflecting upon the character of any person will be admitted to these columns.]

[Correspondents will please let letters so to reach us not later than 9 o'clock a.m. Give full name and address of the writer. We want news in this department, and not觉悟ing nor political arguments.

OCURRING AT GRANBERRY.

What The Ledger's Correspondent Records
Presses That Pleasant Story.

ACT Tolle was in Mayville Monday.

Mrs. W. H. Thomas is critically ill at this writing.

Ridge Morris will preach at the Chrysten Church next Sunday.

Miss White will be in attendance at the bed-side of her sister, Mrs. Thomas.

Mrs. Alice Macpherson has been confined to her room for several days with grippe.

Miss Lena Tolle and sister visited friends near McGill Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Anna Green, who has been away from home for the past four months, returned to her home near Weston some days since.

The "Syrup" won the local option contest at Three Springs, Hart county, by a majority of 35.

OPERA-HOUSE OPENING

Entertainments Will be the Best of Home Talent.

FEBRUARY 9th-10th THE DATES.

That's going to be a gala old week in Mayville when the Opera-house opens.

All forms are now ready for the performances, and the program is being prepared.

From the labyrinth of dress-suits and details which had been submitted to paper the various parts have been eliminated, weeded and assigned, and hence order, system and a spirit did start now take their perfect rule to have a magnificent result.

It can be easily said now that the three entertainments being prepared for the purpose of opening our handsomely-preserved house will not detract from its airy nor dull the beauty of its interior. Upon the contrary, we feel safe in prophesying that the productions will far surpass the expectations of the most sanguine and to the keenest depths of us just unopened talents to put to justice words of praise. Great attempts are being made and much zeal will certainly bear a triumphant result.

The young ones who make the galleries are with skill, beautiful and good reproductions of their prototypes. These have now their subjects, and with interested fingers are busily piping the melody in accompaniment that creates which "dance upon the form in waves of foamy grace yet clings with love's hands as tenderly as sweet."

Dandruff is disease.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

cures the disease that produces dandruff.

44-45

KENTUCKY FLASHES.

NOT LEPROSY.

An Investigation Made of the Suspicious Cases at Cordova—Pronounced Not Leprosy.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Ky., Jan. 27.—An investigation has just been made into an alleged case of Asiatic leprosy which was said to exist at Cordova, a village ten miles from here. While the investigating physician has reported that it is a case of hereditary cancer, and not leprosy, the people of the country are still terribly excited. County Judge Westover ordered an investigation to be made of the case. Dr. O'Connor, he reported that he found the suspected case in the family of Mr. McLean Martin. He found one child with its face so disfigured by an eruption that its features were scarcely distinguishable. Another member was disfigured by a large protuberance on the left side of the head. He pronounced these to be due to hereditary cancer, and not leprosy. The disease first appeared in the form of spots on the skin, which developed into eruptions, and this caused the report of leprosy.

Underwriters Threaten to Withdraw.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 27.—The executive committee of the Kentucky and Tennessee board of underwriters held a meeting Thursday morning to consider the questions of insurance companies withdrawing from Franklin county because of the recent decision made against them by the state fiscal court in Frankfort. The meeting was a private one, and the action was not announced, but it is thought probable that the 87 companies concerned will withdraw.

Shooting at Butler.

BUTLER, Ky., Jan. 27.—Emil Messing-schager, 53 years old, living at Morning View, while under the influence of liquor, shot and fatally wounded S. Baker, of Kenton station, Thursday afternoon. Emil Messing-schager is a brother of Councillman Messing-schager, of Covington. Several days ago he narrowly escaped being burned to death in the fire in which George Roth lost his life. Remarks on this occurrence are said to have caused the shooting.

Green Goods Men Convened.

OWENSBOURG, Ky., Jan. 27.—Tom M. Morgan, who has been on trial for two days in the United States court here, was Thursday found guilty of selling green goods circulars, and has been sentenced as a felon, and has been given a general discharge.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman, who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

Harvey Green Run on Chambers
Long-Camp.

Manager Martin, of the Persian drapery, informs us that he is having a great run on Chambers' Green Run on Chambers. He sells five yards of material, one yard of lace and kind, and it gives great satisfaction. In these days of stripe there is nothing like Chamberlain's Green Run on Chambers, which can be had in every thread and lace, and can be had within a very short time. The sales are growing, and all who try it are pleased with its prompt action.—South Christian Daily Telegram. For sale by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Drug gists.

The Indian can see tenth further than the eye can see.

It takes a exceeding eighty seconds to turn completely around.

There are four Irishmen to every Englishman in the United States.

The swallow has a larger mouth, in proportion to its size, than any other bird.

The sum of what you have to pay the sheriff to get a writ of execution on the square yard.

Look through the houses of young children almost as freely as through the velvet curtains.

The births in Louisville last year numbered 7,888, as compared with 9,146 in 1905, and 8,411 in 1906.

It is stated that about one in eighteen of the inmates of prison lives on charity, with a tendency toward crime.

The town Council of Thornton, Ind., has adopted an ordinance forbidding persons, who have been drinking, to go into the Union Club, or any other place of public entertainment.

Mr. John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

who has control over more than 100 conductors in the employ of the London Tramways Company. Limited. She is the only woman in England who holds the position of Superintendent of railway conductors.

John E. Smith, who accompanied the Postmaster to Paris as stenographer and typewriter, Miss McNaughton and Miss Martin receive the highest salary paid by the Government to women, the sum of $2,400 a month.

In London there is a lady, Mrs. Penman,

</